They can be used to help strengthen and support community engagement in Global Fund-related processes. Some of the tools are region-specific, but many have global application.

All in one place

The purpose of this Toolbox is to aggregate resources that are stored in many different places into one centralized repository. Its aim is to be a user-friendly library for communities to strengthen their Global Fund engagement.

By communities, for communities

These tools were developed by the 37 partners of the Global Fund's Community Engagement Strategic Initiative, all of which are civil society or community organizations. The tools are designed for use by civil society organizations and community groups who want to engage more meaningfully in Global Fund-related processes at country level.

ABOUT THE STRATEGIC INITIATIVE

The objective of the Global Fund's Community Engagement Strategic Initiative is to strengthen the engagement of civil society and communities most affected by the three diseases in Global Fund and related processes.

Engagement of community and civil society actors at all stages in the grant life cycle is critical in the design, development and implementation of effective responses to the three diseases and systems strengthening.

BRIEFING NOTE:
'Sexual Exploitation' in the Global Fund's Codes of Conduct

The Global Fund has established Codes of Conduct which employees, resource recipients, suppliers, Country Coordinating Mechanisms (CCM) members, and governance officials must uphold while carrying out their work. One of the requirements, which applies to all parties under these codes, is to prohibit 'sexual exploitation'. Due to widespread conflation of sex work with 'sexual exploitation', however, there is concern that this provision may be misinterpreted to exclude sex workers. This Briefing Note clarifies this provision and provides information which members can use if they are challenged by Global Fund stakeholders.

Understanding the Global Fund's Codes of Conduct

The Global Fund's Codes of Conduct outline the requirements and expectations that employees, resource recipients, suppliers, CCM members, and governance officials must meet. Among these provisions is the requirement to 'prohibit, prevent, and respond to' sexual exploitation. The Global Fund defines 'sexual exploitation' as:

'... any actual or attempted abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust, for sexual purposes, including but not limited to, profiting monetarily, socially or politically from the sexual exploitation of another.'

This definition was taken from the UN Secretary General's 2003 definition of 'sexual exploitation', which was given in response to an investigation into the 'sexual exploitation' of refugees by aid workers in West Africa. While the definition in itself does not exclude sexual exploitation with sex work, it may be subject to misinterpretation due to ambiguity and widespread conflation of sex work with exploitation and trafficking. This risk is exacerbated when no attempts are made to distinguish sex work as a form of labour.

Briefing Note: Sexual Exploitation In The Global Funds Codes Of Conduct

This briefing note clarifies the Global Fund's provision to prohibit 'sexual exploitation' in its Codes of Conduct, explaining how it should not be conflated with sex work and should not be interpreted to exclude sex workers.
